COULD QUIT INDUSTRIES

Present Law Makes Bonds State
Obligation and Gives Commission Power to Quit

Discussion of the proposed recall election, which has increased rather than diminished since the Devils Lake convention, although the probable date is not until November 8, has brought out varied ideas from voters who have done a great deal of meditating upon problems before the state. Discussion has been confined chiefly to the home and to small groups.

The proposal for a constitutional amendment proposing a new bond issue of $7,750,000, replacing the present authorization, has perhaps brought out more varied opinion than any other.

There is considerable opposition expressed among voters who are growing weary of the ever-increasing proposals to make new issues of bonds for the state of North Dakota for various industries which they feel have already proved to be unwise in conception and which they believe will only plunge the state into the mire of debt. They do not believe that there should be any effort to float additional bonds, but instead to utilize the present laws to provide for the liquidation of all the state industries, especially the Bank of North Dakota, and get the state down to a sound business basis.

Chief Argument.

The chief argument advanced for the proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted at a recall election proposing a new issue of bonds is that the present bonds are unsaleable because they are not the obligation of the entire state. This view does not meet the views of many independent-lawyers of high standing, who believe that the people of the state of North Dakota are bound to pay the millions of dollars they feel will be lost in the continuance of unprofitable industries with political management.

Under the present constitution and laws subsequently enacted, many independent point out, the Industrial Commission has the power to close down the industries, liquidate the Bank of North Dakota or turn it into a real rural credit institution.

If the Bank of North Dakota were made a rural loan bank there is plenty of law available for carrying out the policy, they hold. The present constitution, amendment to section 182, article 12, makes the sky the limit on bonds issued on real estate security. The constitution provides that all state indebtedness in excess of $2,000,000 shall be secured by first mortgages on real estate. This makes the sky the limit with the only restriction, chapter 151, session laws of 1919, limiting the amount of real estate bonds which may be issued to $10,000,000.

Chapter 151, session laws of 1919, creating the Industrial Commission, gives the commission supreme authority over the Bank of North Dakota.

What Amendment Would Do.
The proposed constitutional amendment advocated at Devils Lake, which provides a $7,750,000 bond issue for various industries, also would make the sky the limit on real estate loans. It is held by those who oppose the proposed amendment that this is simply a duplication of authority regarding real estate loans already on the statute books and with respect to the bond issues.

The chief argument advanced for the proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted at a recall election is that the present bonds are unsaleable because they are not an obligation of the entire state. This view does not meet the views of many independent-lawyers of high standing, who have examined the matter, and they do not feel that the proposed action is warranted. The present bond issue offered, they say, are the debt of the state of North Dakota, and if the industries fail, the people will have to pay dearly for the experiment. Section 182 in article 12 of the constitution provides:

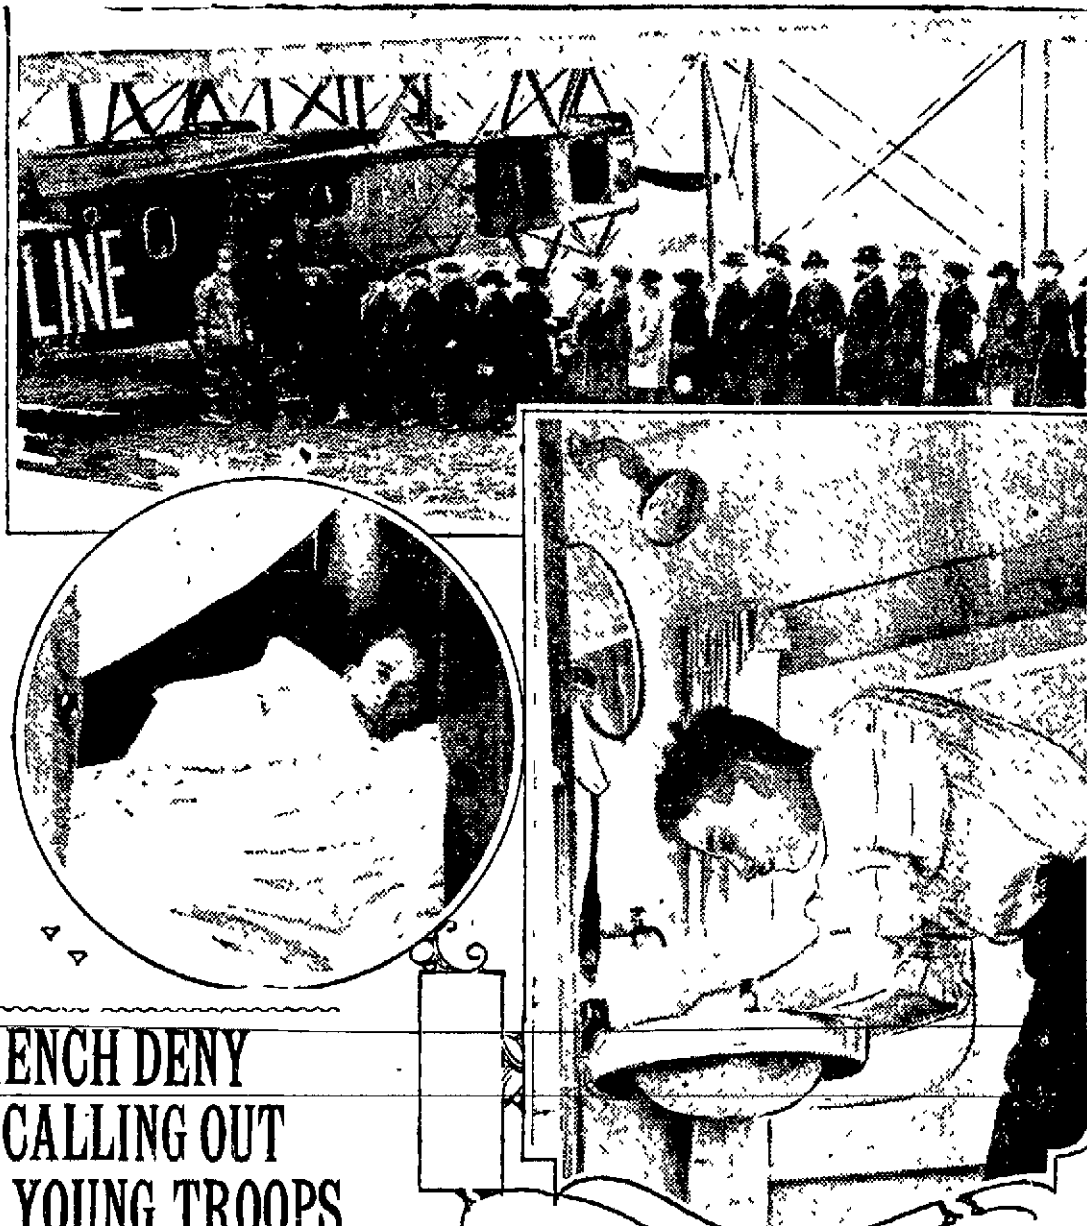

"The state may issue or guarantee the payment of bonds, provided that all bonds in excess of two million dollars shall be secured by first mortgages upon real estate in amounts not to exceed one-half of its value; or upon real and personal property of state-owned utilities, enterprises or industries, in amounts not exceeding its value, and, provided further, that the state shall not issue or guarantee bonds upon property of state-owned utilities, enterprises or industries in excess of ten million dollars."

May Sell Below Par.

The laws enacted to provide the issuance of bonds under the above section name first the $2,000,000. Bonds of the State of North Dakota Bank Series "10" are 6 per cent bonds payable in 10 to 30 years at the discretion of the governor, and may be sold for less than par. The law says that "upon such delivery of bonds and purchased and paid for the faith and credit of the state of North Dakota is pledged for the payment thereof both principal and interest to the lawful holder and owner thereof upon presentation and payment according to law."

To provide for payment of bonds the law states that profits from the industry shall go to this end and also that the state board of equalization shall levy a tax to pay the interest. (Continued on page 4)

Lawson Will Start Night
Air Liner

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Milwaukee, April 18.—The first aerial sleeper service started May 13. It will be operated by the Lawson Air Line Co., of which Alfred W. Lawson is president.

The first Lawson air liner has been completed at the South Milwaukee factory of the Lawson company at a cost of $100,000.

It has sleeping quarters for 33 persons in addition to capacity for 1,500 pounds of mail. It can carry a total of 6,000 pounds in addition to its own weight.

The cabin contains in addition to "Pullman" berths shower baths, electric lights and other luxuries. Furniture is wicker.

The ship has three 400-horsepower Liberty motors, a wing spread of 117 feet, hops off in less than 120 feet and has a maximum speed of 120 miles an hour.

It is equipped with the largest tires in the world. Each wheel costs more than a Ford automobile.

It can make the 900-odd air miles from Milwaukee to New York in two to three hours.

Provision is made for transferring passengers on board in flight to a smaller ship flying underneath. This is done through a trap door and rope lugging.

Lawson expects to take the ship May 1 to La Crosse where it will be christened in the name of that city. He will fly the machine himself.

Lawson plans to build 10 similar ships this year.

The ships will carry government mail and will fly over these three routes:
FIRST, New York, Harrisburg, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago.
SECOND, Pittsburg, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and St. Louis.
THIRD, New York, Washington and Atlanta.

Paris, April 18.—General Wrangel, former head of the South Russian government, has established so-called Russian government in Constantinople.

FIRST ALLEGED SPEEDERS OF
SEASON ARE TO ANSWER CHARGE
IN POLICE COURT AND GET 'CURE'

A recurrence of an old epidemic in Bismarck is reported.

Bright sunshine, glistering paved streets and a desire to try or own are responsible for the epidemic common in the spring to motorists everywhere.

The police still apply the common name speeders, although even the motorist halted into court for a cure contend that the thrill of stopping on "her entitles it to a better name."

The same road, live and cost in ordinary cases and ten and costs in more serious cases is to be applied by Police Magistrate Flanagan.

The first "victim" of the good stoppers of the police department was a 1921 recorded Erick Swenson who was fined $20 and costs on April 15.

Complete Reports Show 62 Killed in Arkansas During Storm

Memphis, Tenn., April 18.—Relief workers began today clearing away debris of the tornado which swept eastward from Texas Saturday and took a toll of approximately 100 lives, injured several hundred and wrecked a score or more of villages and farming settlements in six southern states.

The known death list stood at 91 with several missing and believed killed.

Hempstead county, Arkansas, reported 41 dead. In Miller county, adjoining, 17 lost their lives, three were killed in Pope county, one in Yell county, and one in Pike.

Texas reported nine dead, Alabama 11, and Mississippi 8.

Heavy rain and a sharp drop in temperature following the storm contributed to the suffering but today the weather was clear and warmer.

SEEKING NEW

COAL MINERSBritish Government Trying to End Tie-Up of Mining Industry

London, April 18.—Governmental authorities were anxious today to reopen negotiations between the miners and owners with the hope of bringing about a settlement of the wage question which caused the strike on April 1.

There seems little probability that the miners' federation would take steps to meet before next Friday when miners' representatives will confer here.

In the meantime here Great Britain is facing a serious coal shortage and extraordinary measures are taken to ease out present stocks until some adjustment can be made.

Beginning today train service was curtailed.

A mass meeting of the coal porters union in London yesterday adopted resolutions stating that in the view of the importation of American and German coal the union would refuse to bunker any full loads and decline to tranship imported coal.

Doorn, Holland, April 18.—Former Emperor William, seemed on the edge of a breakdown at the funeral services of the former empress before the body was taken to the train for Potsdam.

Funeral Train Leaves.
Doorn, Holland, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The funeral train bearing the remains of the late Former Empress Augusta Victoria to Potsdam left the little station at Naarn three miles from here, at 7:45 o'clock this morning.

Former Emperor William did not go to Naarn to see the train depart, but remained at the house at Doorn in company with his brothers.

KAHN MEASURE
REPORTED OUT

Washington, April 18.—The Kahn resolution for investigation of the escape to Germany of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, Philadelphia draft dodger was reported out today by the house rules committee. Chairman Campbell indicated that it would be taken up by the house soon.

FORMER LEADER OF SALVATION
ARMY IN CITY

Ensign E. A. Marshall of the Salvation Army was to be in Bismarck today.

The ensign was formerly stationed here in charge of the local corps some three years ago and during his stay made many friends who will be glad of the opportunity of seeing him again.

He is accompanied by Captain T. Larson of Jamestown. The captain visited the city a short time ago at which time he endeavored himself to the Bismarck folks.

Both being excellent musicians and good speakers the local salivations expect to have an extraordinary time and cordially invite the public to attend these services.

PRICE METHOD

Washington, April 18.—Recommendations for legislation to eliminate unnecessary broker transactions, and condemnation of "open price association" are included in the federal trade commission report.

BOLT TO LEAVE
PLACE AS HEAD
OF HIGH SCHOOLPrincipal Accepts Position in Larger City in Michigan

IN CITY FOR TEN YEARS

C. F. Bolt, principal of the Bismarck high school, announced today that he would not return to this city next year.

Mr. Bolt has accepted a position as superintendent of the high school of Muskegon Heights, Michigan, a city of 14,000 people. He also had received an offer to become superintendent of schools in his home city, which is but nine miles from Muskegon.

Superintendent of Schools J. M. Martin, expressing regret at the decision of Mr. Bolt, declared that the school and the city suffers a serious loss.

Mr. Bolt decided to accept the Michigan offer because it is in his native state and near his home. Mr. Bolt has made annual trips to Michigan during the summer vacation.

No steps have been taken toward obtaining a new principal for the high school. Mr. Bolt had been tendered a contract to remain in Bismarck at a salary equal to that paid any principal in North Dakota, but reached his decision today to accept the Muskegon proposition because of the opportunity offered in a larger city in a more populous section his home state.

Mr. Bolt came to Bismarck ten years ago as principal of the high school when he had but four assistants, 125 pupils, and a graduating class of 15. There now are 16 assistants, 361 pupils and the graduating class of the high school will number 55 in June.

Mr. Bolt has been an active civic worker, a member of the Rotary and Town Officers clubs.

FOREIGN TRADE
BALANCE OF U.S.
SHOWS DECLINENearly Three-Quarters of a
Billion Less Than a Year Ago

Washington, April 18.—America's trade last month was nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars less than in the same month last year. Figure made public by the department of commerce show:

Exports for the month were $384,000,000, as compared to $820,000,000 in March, 1920, while imports were only $252,000,000 as compared to $524,000,000. This left a trade balance for the month of $132,000,000 against $296,000,000 in March, 1920.

The Japanese foreign office replied under date of Nov. 19 that it was "the definite understanding of the American government that the council at the previous request of President Wilson had reserved for future consideration the final disposition of the island" in the hope that some government might be reached to place it under international control.

The Japanese government had also declared it was unable to understand why the United States had waited for more than a year and a half to question "the decision" of the council particularly in view of the publication of "the decision" at Paris on May 8.

Japan's reply of February 26 said that if the observations of the American government with regard to cables was put forth irrespective of the fact that the island was within Japanese mandatory territory "they the question appears to be one which should be freely settled by the nation which has charge of the place, namely Japan."

Rome, Italy, April 18.—(By Associated Press.) A formal denial was issued by the Vatican today of the report that it would act as an intermediary between Germany and United States for presentation of German propositions with regard to reparations.

IRISH HOLDING
CHICAGO MEETING

Chicago, April 18.—Irish-Americans from all sections of the country were here today for the opening of the first national convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

Pennsylvania alone sent 700 delegates, while New York and Michigan each sent 200.

BOOST PRICE OF CRUDE OIL

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 18.—An increase in the price of crude oil was announced here today by the principal purchasing agencies. The increase ranged from 10 to 25 cents a barrel.

COAL OUTPUT
AT LOW LEVEL

Washington, April 18.—Output of bituminous coal slumped to 5,000,000 tons for the week ending April 12, the lowest since the war days.

Further slide left this morning in the price of coal. The price of bituminous coal in the West was 1.10 a ton, and in the East 1.00 a ton. The price of anthracite coal in the West was 1.20 a ton, and in the East 1.10 a ton.

Says Decision of Supreme Court
Clearly Was Understood

Washington, April 18.—To maintain its position with regard to the Pacific Island of Yap the American government would have to "prove not merely the facts that President Wilson made reservation concerning it but also that the supreme council, 'decided in favor of those views,' the Japanese government says in a note under date of last February 26, made public today by the state department, along with the other correspondence between the two governments regarding Yap.

"It must also be remembered, Japan says, 'that if a decision in favor of the exclusion of the island of Yap—a question of grave concern to Japan and one on which the Japanese delegation invariably maintained a firm attitude—had really been made as it is implied by the argument of the United States government at the meeting of the supreme council May 7, 1919, at which Japan was represented—it could not but have been regarded but as an act of entirely bad faith.'"

It was to this note that Secretary Hughes replied last April 5, at the same time sending notes to Great Britain, France and Italy. He declared that the United States was unable to agree with Japan's contention that it would have to prove not only that President Wilson made reservations regarding Yap but that the supreme council adopted the same views as no treaty has ever been concluded with the United States relating to the island of Yap."

Mr. Hughes added that the previous request of President Wilson to cede or surrender the right or interest of the United States in the island this government must insist it has not lost its right or interest it had prior to any action of the supreme council or the league of nations and cannot recognize the allocation of the island or the validity of the mandate to Japan."

Japan has not yet replied to this communication.

In the memorandum dated Nov. 9 the secretary of state said it was "the clear understanding of the American government that the council at the previous request of President Wilson had reserved for future consideration the final disposition of the island" in the hope that some government might be reached to place it under international control.

OAKLAND MAN POINT DANGER OF 'BLUE LAW'

Tells of Agitation in Chicago and Gives Word of Warning to Motorists

With "Blue Laws" occupying the attention of the country, radical motor legislation has crept into legislative discussions in some quarters. One of the most stringent measures proposed has been referred to a committee of the Illinois state body, and, although even its proponents admit there is little chance of passage or of even slight progress, automobile men and motor car owners may take it as an indication of "how the wind is blowing."

The unusual Illinois auto "blue law" was suggested by a Representative Cruden of Chicago, who seeks to limit the speed of all motor vehicles to 18 miles an hour by means of an automatic governor such as now controls the postoffice mail trucks of the Windy City.

"No regard is shown for the inevitable traffic congestion certain to occur where all vehicles to travel at same speed," says S. W. Corwin, local Oakland Motor Car representative. "Picture for yourself the sight of Michigan avenue, in Chicago, with its thousands and thousands of machines all rolling along at 18 miles an hour. Big multi-cylindered cars would be unable to pass the humble driver. A car driving at the maximum rate, high on the crown of a boulevard, would retard all machines behind."

"Of course, we all smile at the prospect of such a law and its effects. But the mere fact that such a measure can find a sponsor and even a small number of supporters seems to indicate that there is now forming a sentiment that may, if permitted encouragement, grow into a commanding force. "A minute's thought will give any motorist the solution of this problem. It can be expressed in one phrase, which the Oakland Motor Car Company has spread throughout the land through its great dealer organization:

"Drive Politely."

"Observance of the speed laws is essential in every community. The infraction of such laws by only a few motorists may mean inconvenience for thousands if laws are made more stringent for the few violators."

SHE TAKES NEW ROLE AT 84

MISS GENEVIEVE WARD
London, April 16.—Miss Genevieve Ward, at 84, is studying a new stage role.

She has been named to play the part of Queen Margaret in "Richard the Third" during the Shakespeare revival at the old Vic Theater here late this month.

"I love the part," says Miss Ward, "because the queen curses them out, and I always have enjoyed cursing parts."

The king of England recently made her a dame commander of the Order of the British Empire, which is the same as knighthood. She is the first American woman to be so honored.

Miss Ward was born in 1837. Her grandfather was one of the first mayors of New York City.

She studied music in Milan and made her debut in 1858. Years of success followed. Then diphtheria destroyed her singing voice. Undaunted, she studied dramatic art and in 1873 opened a new career. That career has not yet had "finis" written to it.

"The secret of hale old age? It's simple," she says with a sly smile. "Just be careful in picking your ancestors. I did very well. I chose simple-living, God-fearing Yankees."

APPOINTMENT OF REP ESCH IS APPROVED

Appointments on Railway Labor Board are Announced

Washington, April 16.—Favorable action on the nomination of former Representative Esch, of Wisconsin, to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission, was taken today by the senate interstate commerce committee. Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, was said to have withheld approval.

The three vacancies on the railroad labor board were filled by President Harding by the nomination of Walter L. McMenimen, of Massachusetts, deputy president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, to represent the labor group; Samuel Hixkins, of New York, former general manager of the New York, New Haven and New Hartford railroad, to represent the management group; and Ben W. Hooper, former governor of Tennessee, to represent the public group.

Nominations of George Harvey, of New York, to be ambassador to Great Britain, and Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, to be ambassador to France, were confirmed today by the senate.

PRIDE OF VET WARMED WITH DODGE ABILITY

Motor Car's Work in France Inspired U. S. Soldier with Yankee Prowess

Compelling evidence of the warm admiration held for Dodge Brothers motor car by members of the American Expeditionary Forces, is contained in an endless succession of letters received by the Detroit manufacturers from uniformed men of every rank. More than 14,000 Dodge Brothers motor cars served with the American army and the following letter is typical of the comments of those who say the car in action:

"While reading some New York papers recently I noticed that while other cars were praised highly (in their advertisements) for the good work done in overseas service, nothing was said of the Dodge car."

"I have been over here on active service for a year and have been driving a Dodge Brothers Sedan for the last eight months. This little car has made 27,000 miles and has never been laid up for motor, transmission or any other car trouble. Its work during this time can not be praised too highly. In all the big battles of the Third Division, namely, Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and Argonne, the little Dodge has never once failed to respond. In the last American campaign I have driven it up hills and through roads where other cars of higher price were forced to detour. I have been through roads with mud right to the hub caps and places where only tanks and artillery tractors could make their way."

"I am sure if decorations were given to motor vehicles on their good work performed in war service, the Dodges that are on duty with the A. E. F. would receive the lion's share. Although her beauties were marred many times by shrapnel holes, she is still on the job with the Army on the Rhine. Have used only two sets of tires in all the 27,000 miles and the roads of northern France are very Miss Frances Loerch, of Steele, who has been visiting Mrs. Wilbur Allen, has returned to her home.

In New Store

The Bismarck Furniture company has moved from its old location on West Main street into the spacious building on the east side of the street formerly occupied by The Tribune. The new quarters afford the company excellent opportunity for displays and for additions to the stock and extension of the business. The company repairs and upholsters furniture and has a big stock of new furniture.

Called to Home

John McGowan, a student in the University of Michigan, has arrived home, being called here on account of the critical illness of his father, Thomas McGowan. Mr. McGowan's condition was no better today. He is suffering from effects of a stroke of paralysis and pneumonia. He is conscious but part of the time.

Some FACTS About

Here are authentic figures from the Ford factory at Detroit. They show you just how many Ford cars and trucks have been built each month since January 1, 1921, and how many have been sold to retail customers, in the United States.

| | Produced | Delivered to Retail Customers |
|------------------|----------|----------------------------------|
| JANUARY | 29,883 | 57,208 |
| FEBRUARY | 35,305 | 63,603 |
| MARCH | 61,886 | 87,221 |
| Total Production | 127,074 | Total Retail Sales 208,032 |

showing that actual sales for the first three months of 1921 exceeded production by 80,958 Ford cars and trucks!

April requisitions already specify 107,719 additional cars and trucks and the estimated April output of the factory and assembly plants combined calls for only 90,000!

These facts clearly show that the demand for Ford products is growing much faster than manufacturing facilities to produce and were it not for the limited dealers' stocks, which are now being rapidly depleted, many more customers would have to be compelled to wait for their cars. It will be only a matter of weeks, therefore, until a big surplus of orders will prevent anything like prompt deliveries.

If you would be sure of having your Ford car or truck when you want it, you should place your order now. Don't delay. Phone us or drop us a card.

WILL BUILD NEW APARTMENTS IN CITY OF MANDAN

Ressler, Leonard and Chubb
Back $50,000 Building Corporation

The Architectural Home Builders and Construction company has been organized with a capitalization of $50,000, according to the announcement of the officers of the company. The new concern will take over the business of Ressler & Leonard company.

One of the first objects contemplated is an apartment house. It will be a modern, fireproof building of the best construction.

Ressler Heads Company
The officers of the company are: Nick Ressler, president; H. M. Leonard, vice president, and P. W. Chubb, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Ressler is a well-known architect and is at present supervising the construction of the addition to the St. Mary's school at Bismarck, a new Catholic school and church at Garrison and several other buildings.

Assisted State Architect
Mr. Leonard was employed with Mr. Crabbe while the latter was state architect. He is an overseas veteran. Mr. Chubb came to Mandan as district sales agent of the Leyner Tractor & Manufacturing Company of Denver. He was one of a dozen men who sold in eight months the $2,500,000 stock issue of the tractor company.

TIPS EAST OFF TO REAL DOPE ON N. DAKOTA

Secretary Thomas H. Sullivan of the Mandan Commercial Club, has tipped the East off to the real Sunshine state.

While Nebraska, Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Kansas and other states too numerous to mention Saturday were putting on their snowshoes and digging paths through snowdrifts as high as buildings, Tom Sullivan sat down on his machine and typed off the following cheering message from "Where the West Begins":

"Tribune, Chicago.
"We wish to call attention to this opportunity of checking the canard that North Dakota is the home of blizzards. We haven't had a blizzard all winter. For three weeks farmers have been seeding in the fields and the average temperature today throughout the western half of the state was 75. Clear skies mark freedom from blizzards in Mandan, 'Where the West Begins'."

MANDAN BAND ORGANIZES AS CIVIC AFFAIR

Famous High School Organization Led by Bergeim Becomes Municipal Institution

Organization of the Mandan High School band and a municipal musical institution has been completed. Sufficient money has already been subscribed to guarantee a successful season this summer.

Joseph Bergeim will remain in Mandan for the summer vacation and will be the leader. Officers of the organization have been selected as follows: Joseph Bergeim, director and manager; J. B. Ra'ek, secretary and treasurer; J. P. Hess, William Ordway, C. E. Edquist and N. E. Luther, trustees.

Plans are being made for the erection of a bandstand for regular weekly concerts. The band boys will wear a regulation uniform. Special band hats will be worn and white duck trousers with black or dark blue coats.

SUGGEST NEW CLUB SITE
Some enthusiastic Mandan citizens are suggesting a new site for a country club. There is a spot near Mandan, they say, which would afford canoeing, an excellent golf course and skating in winter. They propose, after the bridge is finished, to seek a union of Bismarck and Mandan clubs.

LOAD UP YOUR 'JIT' TANK WITH BUTTER—AND SPEED!

L. A. SPERRY AND THE ENGINE HE INVENTED

By Newspaper Enterprise.
New York, April 18.—If you're tired of burning up high-priced gasoline in the oil sliver, why not try butter? It's practical—it your "jit" be equipped with one of the new engines recently invented by Elmer Ambrose Sperry of Brooklyn. If you think butter's a little high, try lard, or even powdered coal! Sperry says they will work equally well. He has at length succeeded in perfecting the oil-burning Diesel type engine for automobile use, a task that many other inventors have tried in vain. Sperry has worked on his engine for 25 years. "It will run equally well on any grade of crude oil, will digest lard or butter with astonishing ease and during a recent 36-hour test churned out 3,200 revolutions a minute without faltering once," says the inventor. Sperry is regarded by scientists as a second Edison. His contributions to science include the gyro compass, which now guides ocean ships. Among his other achievements are researches in high-powered searchlight and electric mining machinery fields. He has invented many appliances for advancing the electrical industry. Sperry's new engine is the result of 25 years' work. "A remarkable feature about it is that it is no heavier per horse power than the common gas engine," he says. "And it costs no more. It needs no spark plugs or ignition system to operate. "My engine is lighter per horse power than any oil-burning engine ever built, but I did not sacrifice a bit of power." Navy Department officials have asked Sperry to install one of his engines on a seaplane for experimental purposes. Experts who have viewed the machine predict it will revolutionize the auto industry.

NAZIMOVA WILL BE SEEN HERE IN GREAT PLAY

"Billions," French Play, is Vehicle for Remarkable Actress

"Billions" is the highly interesting title of Nazimova's newest cinema production, and in this drama from French sources the brilliant actress will be seen as the feature attraction at the Eltinge Theatre for a run of two days beginning Tuesday. Advance reports on the picture declare it to be the best that Nazimova has ever done, notably from the standpoint of the great variety of emotional expression it permits to the gifted Russian star and the lavishness of its pictorial background.

As may be surmised, the plot of "Billions" revolves about people of wealth and high position. Nazimova's role is that of a Russian Princess, who is widowed when the Bolsheviks blow her titled husband to atoms with a bomb. She has been estranged from the Prince and is in New York, living in the heart of the uptown art colony of the metropolis, her home the meeting place for the cleverest members of artistic Bohemia, when the story opens.

The princess has fallen in love with a poet whom she has never seen, although her soul has responded to his verses. One day the poet is suddenly lifted from obscurity and the disarray of his Greenwich Village studio into affluence through the death of a fabulously rich uncle. Now a millionaire, he discards his identity as a poet and sets out to see life and spend his newly inherited dollars.

The Princess, meanwhile, has become wealthy through the taking off of her spouse, and she meets the poet, acclaimed as a multi-millionaire, at a fashionable southern California hotel. They fall in love, but some designing schemers endeavor to blackmail the poet-millionaire and the Princess comes to his rescue by sacrificing her own reputation as a good woman.

"Billions" appeared first on the French stage under another title, Charles Bryant adapted the drama for Nazimova's use. Ray C. Smallwood directed the production.

Nazimova herself was responsible for the designing of some of the exceptionally beautiful settings for the supporting cast is headed by the poet, Mr. Bryant, playing the poet-millionaire, and includes such sterling screen favorites as William J. Irving, Victor Patek, John Stripling, Marian Skinner, Bonnie Hill, Emmett King and Eugene H. Klum. Nazimova made the production at the Metro studios on the Pacific coast.

CHICAGOETTES

By the census of 1920, Chicago has a population of 2,791,705. Chicago is the world's foremost livestock, grain and lumber center. There is an average of 675 conventions a year in Chicago. A new union station, costing $60,000,000 is planned for Chicago. Chicago has built a $7,000,000 pier for business and pleasure. The Chicago packing industry dates back to 1835. Chicago has built a $5,000,000 pier for business and pleasure. The Chicago packing industry dates back to 1835. Chicago has 72 miles of docks with railroad facilities. There are 75,000 employees in the packing industry in Chicago. Nearly three-fourths of the country's supply of hides comes through Chicago. There are more than 30,000 ice cream parlors.

TREE CULTURE PART OF WORK OF U. S. STATION

Box Elder and Green Ash Are Recommended for Shelter-Belt Planting

EXTENT OF THE WORK

The Northern Great Plains Field Station at Mandan is one of the Federal field stations under the Bureau of Plant Industry in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. At this station are three main departments, grain and grazing experiments; fruit and shrubs; and trees.

In the tree park, the department through this station is placing demonstration plantings with selected farmers in the part of North and South Dakota west of the 100th meridian and Wyoming and Montana to the Rocky Mountains in dry land areas, unirrigated.

These demonstration plantings consist of shelter-belts for farm buildings, and are limited to an average of five in each county per year. These demonstrators are selected through the farm bureau and county agent, and on the necessity of the necessity of visiting the farm before planting, it is required that the applications be on file at the Mandan Station a year in advance of planting.

The first demonstrations were put out in 1916, and up to this time (including 1921 plantings) will number about 825 plantings. Trees to the number of 1,600,000 have been sent out. These demonstration plantings if placed in a solid block would cover about 625 acres.

The trees that have been found to be the best adapted for shelter-belt work are the boxelder, green ash, Northwest poplar, for the main body of the belt with caragana, buffalo berry or Russian olive for the outside rows. Native elms are hardy, but do not make a good windbreak tree on account of having so few branches along the side. Willows and Norway or Carolina poplar have not proven hardy and should not be used. Other native trees that may be used in plantings are the cottonwood, and wild plum, and chokecherry.

Demonstration work in the planting of conifers (evergreens) has just begun, and has not been run long enough to give results. The best trees to use to supplement the deciduous windbreak are the jack pine for light soils, and Scotch pine, Colorado blue and Black Hills spruce for the heavier soils, though the latter do well on almost any soil except pure sand.

The Arboreal department at the Mandan Field Station is also trying to cut a large number of trees both American and foreign in order to determine their adaptability to different methods of planting and culture are also under way.

The Patterson orchestra played.

LUTHERANS OF CITY OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

Voice Tribute to Appearance of Martin Luther at Diet of Worms

Lutherans everywhere in the country count today as the anniversary of one of the great days of history—the stand of Martin Luther at the Diet of Worms.

There was no general observance in the city, but Lutherans plan to observe the memorable appearance of the founder of the church at the annual reformation festival in the fall, Rev. Victor Bartling said today. Luther's revolt really began on October 31, 1517, when after studying the gospel of Christ and St. Paul's interpretation of Christianity, he arrived at the conclusion that practices of the Roman Catholic church at that time were not in accord with the proper interpretation, and he nailed his 95 theses on the doors of the cathedral at Wittenberg. These were spread all over Europe in a short time. Luther continued maintaining his belief for nearly four years. A bill of excommunication was issued by Pope Leo X, which bill Luther burned in Wittenberg square. As a result he was summoned before the Diet of Worms, where he appeared on the 18th day of April, 1521.

Luther refused to retract from his utterances declaring, "I cannot submit my faith to the pope or council, because it is as clear as noonday that they have fallen into error and even into glaring contradictions of themselves. If then I am not convicted by proof from Holy Scripture, or by cogent reasons, I neither can nor will retract anything, for it is neither right nor safe for a Christian to sin against his conscience."

Owen Wister electrified the reading public in 1911 with "The Pentecost of Calamity." "If you want to succeed he says 'first stop hating persons. Stop hating your job. Stop being a grouch. Stop hating work like the devil and keep laughing!'"

The latest use to which glass has been put is in the manufacture of bath-tubs.

MOCK WEDDING HELD AID FOR DIVORCE COURT

Bishop Werhle Objects to Mock Ceremony in Mandan High School

Mock weddings should not be permitted in the schools or elsewhere. Bishop Werhle declares in observations on a "Tom Thumb Wedding," which was held in the Mandan high school. The bishop's letter to The Tribune on the subject follows:

Mock Wedding in the Public High School Gymnasium.

Bismarck, N. D., April 15, 1921.

In today's issue of the "Tribune" we learn that: "Tom Thumb's Wedding" will be given this evening at the high school gymnasium by sixty youngsters, under the direction of Misses Helen Greenwood and Audrey Miller of the school faculty," etc., and that star performers will play the roles of minister, groom, bride, best man, bride's maids, ring bearer, etc.

In regard to this I wish to state: In the endeavor to be fair to all religious denominations and to men of no religious belief at all, it has become a kind of law to banish from the public school everything which should remind the children of any special kind of religion. Delicate consideration for Jew and Heathen have been given as reasons why every positive Christian doctrine of faith is banished from the public school curriculum.

I should judge that consideration for the feelings of the Christian people of Bismarck who consider the wedding ceremonies as truly sacred, and especially of the Catholics of Bismarck who consider matrimony a sacrament instituted by Christ and, therefore, a mock marriage a mean discretion and profanation, should refrain public school teachers from letting the pupils go through the performances of a mock marriage, and much more from teaching them such performances. There are plenty other entertainments which the children may enjoy. Such mock marriages rob matrimony of its sacredness in the eyes of young and grown up people, and are, therefore, a kind of education for divorce. Divorce is, according to the statements of many of our best statesmen an evil which endangers our country much more than all its outside enemies. True patriotism should, therefore, be also a strong motive why such mock marriages should never be allowed in any public school building.

Yours,
VINCENT WEHLE,
Bishop of Bismarck.

FEDERAL FARM LOAN BONDS ARE ON SALE TODAY

Bankers Will Assist in Placing Big Issue Before Investors of Nation

Forty million dollars of five per cent. twenty year Federal Farm Loan bonds were placed on sale this morning through a group of 1,000 investment bankers from all over the country, according to an announcement by Secretary Mellon of the treasury department.

The bonds which will be sold at par can be obtained also from Federal Land banks and farm loan associations.

The bonds will be redeemable, Mr. Mellon said, at the option of the issuing bank at any time after ten years from the date of issue. The managers

WOMAN AVOIDS AN OPERATION

Hope Nearly Gone, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her

Star, N. C.—"My monthly spells gave me so much trouble, sometimes they would last two weeks. I was treated by two doctors without relief and they both said I would have to have an operation. I had my trouble four years and was unfit to do anything, and had given up all hope of ever getting any better. I read about your medicine in the 'Primitive Baptist' paper and decided to try it. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills for about seven months and now I am able to do my work. I shall never forget your medicine and you may publish this if you want to as it is true."—Mrs. J. F. HURSEY, Star, N. C.

Here is another woman who adds her testimony to the many whose letters we have already published, proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound often restores health to suffering women even after they have gone so far that an operation is deemed advisable. Therefore it will surely pay any woman who suffers from ailments peculiar to her sex to give this good old fashioned remedy a fair trial.

(Established 1878)

CHINESE SECRET SOCIETY

A Chinese merchant in Chicago sold some Japanese good last week—and a secrete society ordered him to pay the customary $2,000 fine or get measured for a wooden kimono. He paid the fine.

This Chinese boycott against Japanese goods, with severe penalties, is going on in every Chinatown all over the world, and all through China. A few months back, San Francisco Chinese held a public bonfire of all silks and other Japanese wares in their possession.

The idea is to cripple Japan's foreign trade until she gets out of Chinese territory. There never has been a peaceful war as powerful and extensive as this boycott. There never has been, in the world's history, a punitive secret society as strongly organized as the one enforcing this boycott, with the possible exception of the Ku Klux Klan.

DO IT QUICK, CONGRESS!

The most urgent demand right now, for immediate action in Congress, is NOT tariff, nor taxes, nor foreign relations.

It is the cry for simple justice to 641,900 young men who were branded in body, and many also in soul, that the great war might be won.

Memorial arches and buildings have been provided by dozens. Eulogies have been uttered by thousands. Campaign promises have been registered by tens of thousands.

But delay and neglect and indifference and red tape turn all this empty glory to gall in the mouths of these suffering men.

We have had enough, and too much, of TALK. What the people of the United States want is ACTION.

AND QUICK ACTION!

Each month adds 1500 new cases to the list of men in hospitals already so crowded that decent care is impossible.

The terrible toll of tuberculosis, resulting from gas and exposure, will continue to mount until 1927.

More hospitals—and more HEART; Prompt decisions on pending cases; Speed and efficiency in the bureaus at Washington;

Those are the things Congress must provide. Investigate? Yes, if necessary. But ACT first—and QUICKLY.

Consolidate the scattered efforts under one man—a man who will cut through the red tape with red-blooded indignation, a man who will drive in to this job with steam and power, a man who doesn't give a hang for precedent, or influence, a man who gets RESULTS.

A fighting, swearing man of action—Dawes, for instance!

$5,000 REWARD

Capture a mail robber and win a reward as high as $5,000. That's the amount offered by Postmaster General Will H. Hays "to any postal employee or other person who brings in a mail robber."

All postoffice workers who handle valuable mail are to be armed. It's a return to "shotgun riding" of the old Wells-Fargo days. Shoot straight, boys! Organized bands are plundering the mails right and left. Their loot, in the dozen leading mail robberies during the last ten months, totaled over $7,000,000.

The biggest "job" was the theft of $3,500,000 from a train between Omaha and Council Bluffs, Nov. 13, 1920. Since robberies of registered mails have to be made good, these lootings are a direct levy on every taxpayer.

It's a big sum—that $3,500,000. Jesse James was a piker. In the popular imagination he looms as the greatest robber. Yet his lootings were small enough that the Ford brothers, members of his own band, shot him in 1882 to get the $10,000 reward offered by Governor Crittenden of Missouri for Jesse James' capture, "dead or alive."

Another piker, compared with modern road agents, was the Dalton gang. This was the last "great" gang of train robbers of the old style that worked in the open and, holding up a whole train, gambled their lives. The Dalton gang, trying to pull off a double-header robbery of two banks at the same time, was surrounded by a posse of 300 citizens of Coffeyville, Kan. When the smoke cleared away, Emmet Dalton was the only gangster left alive. After his prison days, in discussing his "big jobs," he said that the gang "once got nearly $50,000."

There were, however, master crooks in the old days. For instance, the gang that stole $700,000 from a New York, New Haven & Hartford train, in 1866. They were captured by Allen Pinkerton, probably the greatest detective in American history.

To arm postal employees is sound horse-sense. It may lead to the big mail looters getting cold lead instead of what their perverted brains consider fame. The country hopes so.

CLIMBING

The crumbling stone cross atop the steeple of an old church was to be repaired.

It was a high, smooth steeple, fashioned cunningly of stone in a time when architecture was less utilitarian than now.

A steeple-jack labored for two weeks to reach the cross with rope and tackle and often he would slip back two feet after he had ascended three. And a great throng, eyes directed to the skies, watched the man climbing thus slowly toward the cross.

As each day's toiling brought him closer to its outstretched arms, he would say, "I'll yet get to that cross." And, after two weeks, he reached it and, embracing its arms, lifted himself to its pinnacle.

Some saw in the man's act just a stunt, while others perceived in the crawling figure the symbol of humanity struggling endlessly up the dazzling heights towards the ideal the cross represents.

Up these heights, over many different roads, man is seen at times advancing; and at times halting, stumbling and falling back—but every century finds him a bit higher up the rugged slope.

But, unlike the fellow on the steeple, man will never reach the top. For when he arrives at the place he thought was his goal, he discovers there are still higher steeples to ascend toward the beckoning symbol of perfection.

"I must go on," he says, and so, undismayed, he resumes his age-old journey. Thus does humanity progress, striving endlessly for unattainable perfection, ever upward toward the stars.

Young ladies who are eating yeast cakes for their complexion could have a delightful heart-to-heart talk with the old-timer who carried a buckeye for rheumatism.

Burlesque actors say they are playing to small audiences. There's a barometer of business conditions that beats financial experts.

If the price decline keeps on, we may yet again see the day when housewives can afford enough eggs to bake an Angel Food cake.

We are returning to normal. A waiter occasionally says "Thanks!" even when the tip is only a dime.

Maybe the people of Yap would prefer not belonging to either side, but rather to themselves.

Petrified bones of a tiger dug up in Utah. We have the blind kind now.

Apparently the old folks sized up our troubles right, after all.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

OBREGON: WATCH HIM

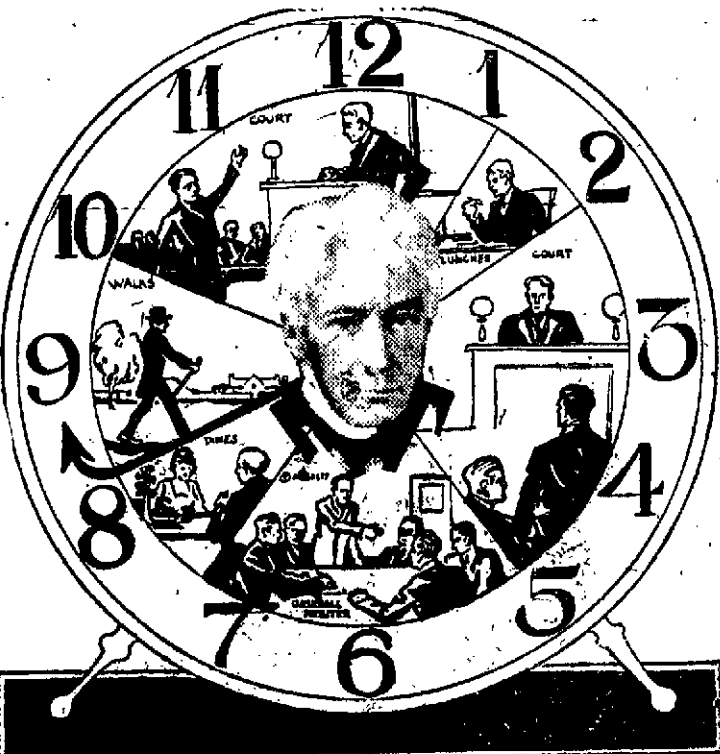

It is significant that for the first time in five years Mexico has sent back to this country a fugitive from American justice. The governor of Texas explains that this is due to "amicable relations established between him and President Obregon at their respective inaugurations. Underscore the word "amicable." It is the one thing relations were not when Carranza ruled Mexico.

Obregon is really a big man. That veteran observer, Dr. E. J. Dillon, who has known "every European statesman from Bismarck to Briand," says of him: "For political vision, high moral purpose, skill and tact in dealing with men and controlling or modifying great emergencies, and also in appearing opportunely at the height of a national crisis, he is Mexico's strongest son, her man of destiny." If he cannot succeed, adds Dr. Dillon, no other Mexican can.

The new president is no stiff-necked, wrong-headed pedant like the unfortunate Carranza; no impracticable idealist like Madero. He is more than a soldier, though he holds a general's rank. He is a successful business man acquainted with large affairs and half concealing under a sense of humor, a democratic manner and the conversational charm of a man of the world, noteworthy qualities of responsibility and enlightened purpose. Ibanez saw in him only the surface—the engaging table companion. Dillon got under the surface.

Given these fundamental abilities and the instinct for "amicable relations" with his own countrymen and his neighbors, Obregon may lead his country, naturally so rich, up the highway of progress. All reports agree that the climb has begun.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

RAPID-FIRE DECIDER, IS LANDIS Works Fast, Plays Fast and Sleeps Fast

By Newspaper Enterprise

Chicago, April 15.—Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, federal judge and supreme arbiter of baseball, with a salary aggregating $50,000, works fast and plays fast.

Every morning, the judge, now 54, arises promptly at 7 o'clock, and breakfasts as punctually at 8 o'clock. He lives at the Chicago Beach hotel. The head-waiter knows just what he wants, and there is never a moment's delay.

After breakfast the judge takes a brisk four-mile walk along the lake shore, "to get a little ozone." He is a fast walker. He knows all the mail carriers, children, and old neighbors and gives them all a greeting by their first names.

Before taking the suburban train to the loop, he runs in and says good morning to one of his daughters and his grandson.

Arriving downtown, the judge dives through traffic at his breakfast speed and drops in at baseball headquarters in the Auditorium Hotel to look over correspondence and attend to any matters which have come up.

Promptly at 10 he enters the courtroom and the federal court is in session. He rarely sits down while hearing cases. He strides back and forth, his hands in his hip pockets, interrupting slow testimony, and in every way expediting the matter before the court. He has little use for strictly legal

Landis' Schedule

8 a. m., breakfasts, walks four miles, takes train to loop.
9:30 a. m., drops in for half hour at baseball headquarters.
10 a. m., convenes federal court.
12 p. m., lunches.
2-5 p. m. holds court.
5-7:30 p. m., acts as baseball arbiter.
8 p. m., dines.
8:30 to 9 p. m., plays with grand-daughter.
9 p. m. to 1 a. m., reads.
1 a. m. to 7 a. m., sleeps.

phrases and red tape. He disposes of cases rapidly, adjourns court promptly at 1 and goes to the Union League Club for lunch, returning promptly at 2, and holds court again until 5.

He hurries from court to baseball headquarters and works there until 7:30, answering correspondence, hearing claims and complaints, and straightening out tangles.

Then home for dinner, after which he romps with his grand-daughter. When she is safely put to bed, he turns to his books, and reads until 1 a. m. He keeps abreast not only of legal and baseball matters but current literature and is as able to give an opinion as fully on an important historical or biographical book as on a bootlegging case.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

"I'm the Man-in-the-Moon," said Filpety-Flap.

The two circus monkeys up in the coconut tree stopped singing about the moon and boiled rice and things, and started to chatter to each other like two magpies, a Filpety-Flap, Nancy and Nick listened and heard it all, as they had asked their Magical Shoes to make them as tall as Jack's beanstalk and the rest was easy. This was what the monkeys were saying:

"The moon knows everything."
"Let's ask him where we can find some delicious rice, then."
"It's too far away."
"Let's jump and see if we can reach it."

"All right. Let's."
So the monkeys uncured their tails from around the branch and jumped. But goodness! All they did was to land on their heads.
"Ouch!" cried the first monkey. "Is this the moon?"

"No!" said the second monkey rubbing his head. "It only the earth, but I can see stars."
"That's just your bump," said the first one. "Let's climb up again."
So they climbed up.

"The fairyman, tall as all get-out, leaned over close, only the leaves hid him."
"St! St!" he whispered cautiously. "Who is it?" asked Mrs. Monkey in surprise. "I can't see you."
"I'm the Man-in-the-Moon," answered Filpety-Flap.

"The moon! Why it's still up there!" "Oh, no, that must be the sun," answered Filpety-Flap.

POETS' CORNER

TRUE FRIENDS

You, Bird, on that wire— Don't you ever tire Singing songs of gladness To such a one as I?

You, Brook, babbling cheerily— Don't you ever weary Humming such sweet melodies To such a one as I?

You, clouds, in the heavens— Dancing, gliding by, Doing for my pleasure For such a one as I?

You, Flowers, in the meadows— Smiling, nodding too, As if each one who passed: You know, E'en such a one as I.

And forests of fragrant flowers With You, I sit in company With God, my quiet hours.

sawered Filpety-Flap. "I've come to tell you a secret."

"Oh, did you hear our song?" exclaimed Mr. Monkey. The twins, too, wondered what the secret was, but being pretty wise they kept still and said nary a word.

"What is the secret?" asked Mrs. Monkey eagerly. Being a woman she was even more curious than her husband.

"I've brought the moon down," said Filpety-Flap.

"The moon! Why it's still up there!" "Oh, no, that must be the sun," answered Filpety-Flap.

Heredity

Jellie—Oh, yes, she takes her hair and eyes from her mother but her complexion she must inherit from her father.

Belle—Her father?
Jellie—Yes. He was a kalsominer.—Judge.

Well, the styles, at least, have done away with the feeling of timidity that formerly overcame the girls when they donned bathing suits.—Milwaukee Journal.

Small Size

Stella—Good joke on the Thimble-bobs.
Bella—How come?
Stella—They moved into a kitchenette apartment and had to buy an entire new home-brew outfit.—Detroit Free Press.

The fall in prices since last June is equivalent to a raise of 37 per cent in your salary, figures the Department of Labor. Assuming, of course, you're still getting it.—Cleveland Press.

Vocational Training

"My son," said his father, solemnly, "when you see a boy loafing about the street corners all day long, what place in life do you suppose he is fitting himself for?"
"To be a policeman," replied the young philosopher promptly.

For a fellow who is almost, but not quite, over the verge of baldness a well selected hair net will probably serve better than a toupe.—Kansas City Star.

Proper Precautions

Asurgeon was performing an operation on a patient when a fire started in a warehouse across the street, illuminating the whole operating room.

Having finished, the doctor said to the nurse: "The patient is coming to; better pull down the shade."
"Why?"
"Well, I don't want him to think the operation hasn't been a success."—Detroit Times.

A Milwaukee woman who died at 118 smoked a pipe, cigars and cigarettes. But so far as we can learn she never-ahhmed, toddled, covered her ears with her hair, shaved off her eyebrows or wore halnet stockings.—Cleveland Press.

Give Or Take

The collector approached a parishioner and held out the box.
"I never give to missions," whispered the parishioner.

"Then take something out of the box, sir," whispered the collector. "The money is for the 'athen.'"—Tit-Bits (London).

EVOLUTION

By David Gibson

And after the single, soft-voiced chant of the passing.

Follows the myriad-voiced chorus in spring song of the coming.

And even so in all ages, From the labored breath of old age, dying;

To the infant's cry, new-born; On and on to the child's laughter, growing;

On and on to the lusty-voiced youth, light-hearted, care-free, coming into responsibility, activity;

On and to the sounds of grown manhood, Active, full-functioned, creative.

And again to the sounds of his creations in their functions.

Down again into the soft-voiced, minor-keyed chant of death, disintegration, decay—

But— It is the birth-bed of new life. From the sun-light, from the air, From the earth, from the waters upon the earth.

Comes the chorus stupendous, the chorus mysterious, The chorus of voices innumerable, The song of life—eternal.

WILLING TO WIN

By Whit Hadley

T. Coleman DuPont started life as a mule driver in a coal mine at Louisville, Ky. He was paid $1.50 a week and lived on it.

That was 58 years ago. Then he tried farming. Failing, he turned to traction work and became a clerk.

He rose steadily and became general manager of the coal mine he once worked in as a mule driver.

He now is president of the DuPont Powder Co.

Divorces under the "poor persons" privilege in England are granted only to those whose income is less than $20 a week.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time, and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, fat and cool.

Notice of Mortgage Sale by Advertisement

Notice is hereby given, that that certain mortgage, executed and delivered by Olli Rotkonek and Eliza Rotkonek, his wife, mortgagors, to Drake-Ballard Company (formerly known as Drake & Ballard Investment Company), a corporation, mortgagee, dated the 25th day of September A. D. nineteen hundred and fifteen and filed for record in the office of the Registrar of Deeds of the County of Burleigh, and State of North Dakota, on the 14th day of October A. D. 1915, and recorded in Book 132 of Mortgages, at page 118, will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises in such Mortgage and hereinafter described, at the front door of the Court House in the city of Bismarck, in the County of Burleigh, and State of North Dakota, at the hour of two o'clock P. M., on the 28th day of May, 1921, to satisfy the amount due upon said mortgage on the day of sale.

The premises described in said Mortgage and which will be sold to satisfy the same, are those certain premises situated in the County of Burleigh, and State of North Dakota, and described as follows, to-wit: The Northwest Quarter of the Southeast Quarter and the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section twenty-two (22) in Township one hundred forty-two (142) Range seventy-six (76) West.

The mortgagee has paid certain sums to wit: the delinquent taxes on said premises for the years 1916, 1917, 1918 and 1919, with interest on the date of sale will amount to the sum of $137.07; also the principal and interest of a prior lien upon said premises which were paid due, which with interest on the date of sale will amount to the sum of $364.82, and which sums are included in the amount hereinafter stated to be due at the date of sale.

Eleanor H. Porter's publishers have sold 750,000 copies of her story, "Pollyanna." It has gone to Europe, Persia, India, China, Japan, Egypt, Turkey, Australia in fact, all over the world.

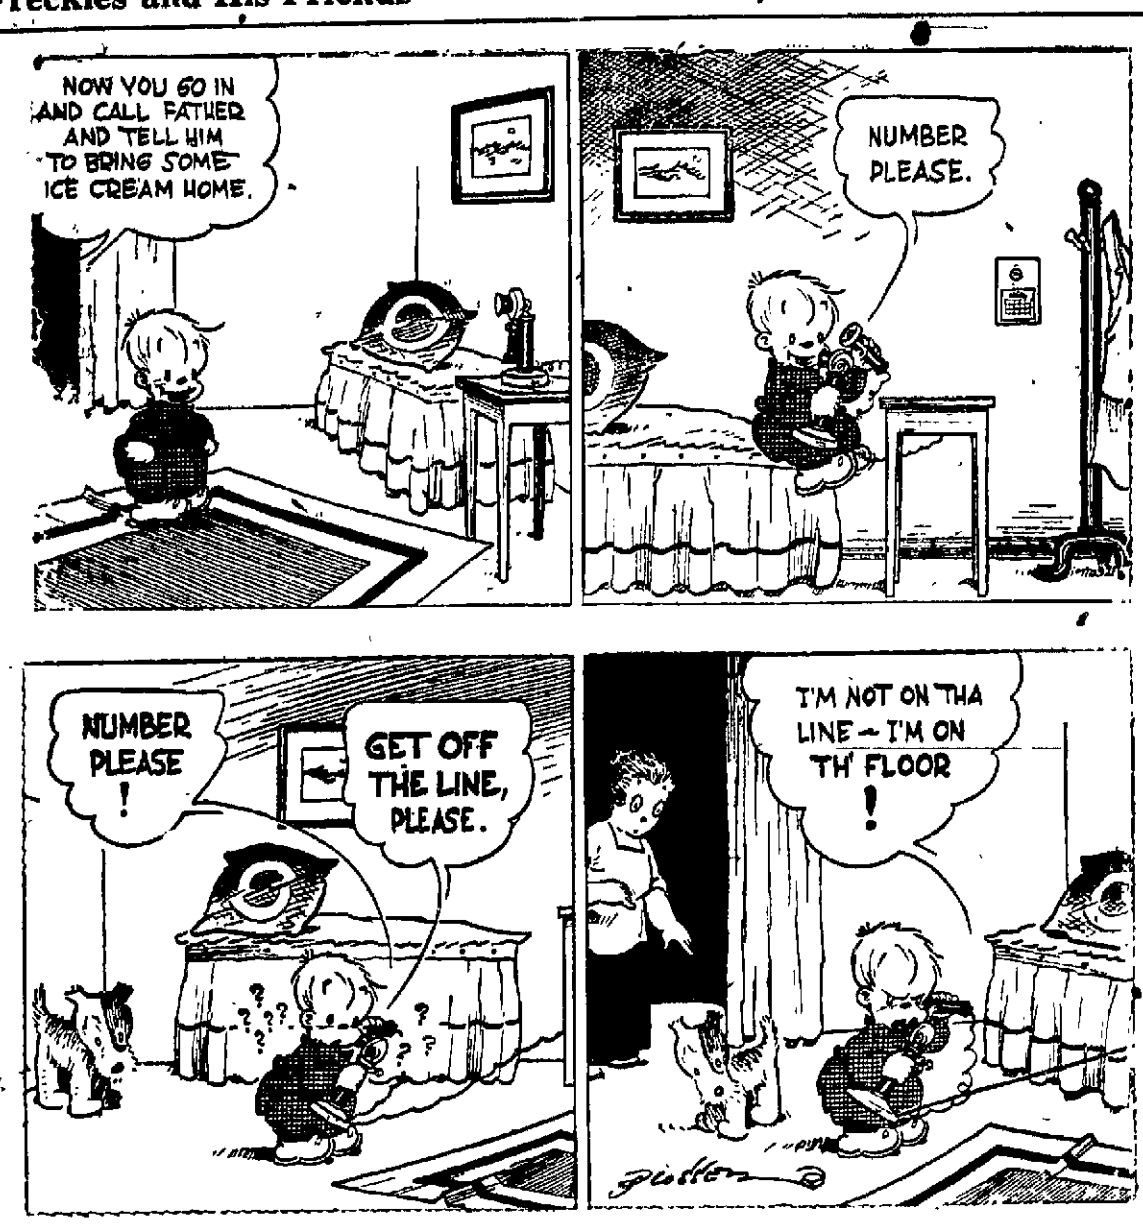

Mrs. Porter, who lived in Cambridge, Mass., had received hundreds of letters from persons everywhere who were playing "the glad game," thanks to Pollyanna. She herself began "playing" it with her mother, who was an invalid. Both were poor; both discouraged.

Board Rejects Union Plea for Postponement of Hearings

Washington, April 18.—The railroad board decided today to proceed immediately with the consolidation hearings in the request of 97 railroads for wage reductions, denying the union's plea for postponement until the appointment of three new members named by President Harding has been confirmed. The board ruled it was within the law in proceeding with a majority of its members present. The board extended the time limit of five days, five hours a day, for each side first.

The employers will present their side first.

NEW YORK REVIEW

"Up in Mary's Attic" Six-Reel comedy, Beats Mack Sennel at his Own Game.

"This farcically, melodramatic human interest picture, has about all the elements necessary for a hilarous, thrilling screen hour—a triumph to Eva Novak and Harry Gribbon.

"The long-heralded 'Up in Mary's Attic' has reached the picture going public, and is just the nicest six reel comedy that has ever been presented. It has an idea which could be used for more serious expression.

The picture has everything and all the various elements are mixed cleverly, so that there is no monotony in theme or treatment. It is one of the few comedies which has a purpose in its telling—there being very little recourse to outrageous comic relief."

"Up in Mary's Attic" will be shown at the Ophium tonight and tomorrow.
